Jeweller wins design award

HARRIET Kelsall Jewellery Design in Green Street, Cambridge has won the UK Jewellery Award for Business Initiative of the Year 2011.

The company won the award for the re-design of its Green Street studio.

"We can design jewellery from scratch without using template designs in a high street retail outlet," Harriet said. "It's wonderful that our efforts in making bespoke jewellery accessible have been recognised."

The interior design makeover was by retail consultant Callum Lumsden who worked with Mary Portas on her BBC2 series Mary, Queen of Shops.
