All That Glitters

Do you dream of a truly unique wedding or engagement ring? A piece of jewellery that not only symbolises your love for each other, but something you can treasure forever, knowing that there really is nothing else like it in the world.

Many jewellery makers offer a bespoke service where you can not only have input into the design of your rings, but end up with a ring that is a true reflection of you.

There are no hard and fast rules about what is the perfect ring. You just need to imagine what you see in your mind's eye as the ring of your dreams and then set about turning that dream into a reality.

At Wilsons Jewellers in St. Austell, you can work with qualified jewellers to create your own bespoke wedding rings. You simply tell them what you would like and they will turn your ideas into professional drawings with an estimate of the proposed cost.
