

Client: Publicity Heaven
Source: Buntingford & Royston Mercury (Main)
Date: 30 June 2011
Page: 6
Reach: 23688
Size: 247cm2
Value: 585.39

Youngsters pick up the thread at family fun day

CLASSIC cars, jewellery making workshops and a glass of complimentary Pimms proved a winning combination at a family fun day near Weston.

Organiser Harriet Kelsall Jewellery Design teamed up with the annual car rally event in Halls Green for the occasion, raising more than £250 for the NSPCC.

Emma Counsel, 6, beat off competition from more than 90 other children to claim first prize in the jewellery contest, where children worked alongside managing director Harriet Kelsall to produce pieces.

WINNER: Emma Counsel

Harriet said: "Emma showed exceptional skill. She was very dexterous and listened carefully to instructions, tightening the wire between each twist like a professional.

"This was our best ever event and we had children queuing all day to make jewellery."

CAREFULLY DOES IT: Kira Beck tries her hand at jewellery making (8)