UK Jewellery Awards 2011 shortlist announced

The much anticipated shortlist of finalists for the UK Jewellery Awards 2011 has been announced.

You can now take a look at those in the running for awards including the new Boutique Retailer category and established favourites, including Multiple Retailer, Watch Brand, Jewellery Designer, Jewellery Brand and Independent Retailer of the Year.

“Everyone who made the shortlist should feel so proud of themselves. This year we had more entrants than ever and all of them were of an extremely high quality, which made the job of shortlisting even more difficult for this year’s judges,” said Laura McCreddie, editor of Retail Jeweller. ” It’s really great to see some new names in the mix in categories such as Watch Brand of the Year and it was wonderful to get such a positive response for our new category Boutique Retailer. These awards have always been the most prestigious in the industry and I think the calibre of people on this year’s shortlist is testament to that.”

Our expert judges have chosen the worthy finalists based on a range of criteria and those listed will now go through the next rigorous judging phase before the final winners are celebrated at a glamorous night of revelry at the Grosvenor hotel in London’s Park Lane on July 14.
